Emmanuel's Career and Vocation

Introduction

What is my calling? Is my job made for me? If I feel like changing direction, which one may suit me? Have I got several options? Am I right to undertake this training? Here are questions which may pop up at any stage of our life, bearing in mind that our modern society forces us to do soul searching more than in the past. In addition, the professional context has become tougher, and often compels us to take stock of our potential and our aspirations.

For this report, focusing on career and vocational guidance, we have chosen to analyse the features specific to these areas, leaving aside those which are related to the personality in general, such as for instance the Sun sign - Ascendant combination, which provides only indications on the character: indeed, one may very well have a career in the military while being a Cancer or a Pisces. Similarly, one may be a perfume creator and an Aries or a Sagittarius.

In the case we are interested in, i.e. carrying out an astrological diagnosis of your social and professional destiny, it is the 10th House taken in its entirety, starting with its cusps, the Midheaven (MC), that we assess in detail. It is necessary to examine the sign it tenants, the aspects formed by planets if any, as well as their presence in the 10th House. Technically, the position of the axes is given by the time and place of birth. Therefore, it is a particularly precise and personal indicator.

Traditionally, the whole 10th House provides information on the social status and the success concretely seen by everybody. It is a "brilliant" House, as demonstrated by many acclaimed astrologers, and the planets conjuncting the MC axis are often dominants, and those in the 10th House are always important for the entire chart. Among other works, we refer in this regard to the researches of Michel Gauquelin, who has established statistics showing this power of influence. It goes without saying that these effects are mainly felt in the social and professional area.

However, one must not deduce a contrario that people having no planets conjunct the MC or even posited in the 10th House will not experience a remarkable professional destiny. In the charts of Barack Obama, Steven Spielberg, or Rupert Murdoch, there are no planets in this House. Nevertheless, their destiny will go down in history. Why? Simply because other indicators are at play.

Beyond idealistic concepts like destiny, each of us is led to practise a job or to accomplish daily routine tasks, which are utterly important, given the time we dedicate them. This practical profile, which concerns our duties, is described by the 6th House. The astrologer finds there elements on the ambiance which may suit us, and on our relationships with colleagues or possible partners.

It is also necessary to examine income. Don't we say "to earn one's living"? When the moment comes to choose a profession, we wonder whether it will feed us. This is why we must mention it and analyse the ruler of the 2nd House as well as the planets posited in this House.

Work is above all a powerful agent for social integration. Ideally, everyone is prompted to bring one's personal qualities into the public sphere. The role of Jupiter and his possible link with Saturn is studied here as a factor of adaptation to society.

The distribution of the planets in the natal chart also provides additional fine-tuning or further confirmation of certain characteristics regarding the way the person experiences his professional development.

Let us precise once more that, in our opinion, each sign enables to practise any activity. On the other hand, the person concerned behaves in ways which are specific to each zodiacal temperament.

Since astrology is neither deterministic nor fatalistic, your chart will not stick a label or define a precise job for you. But it will offer food for thought based on your penchants, your talents, and your competences.

Thus, we hope that this report will enable you to better discern your natural affinities so as to find the best suitable path.

Natal chart and planet's position

Emmanuel, born December 21, 1977, at 10:40 AM, Amiens (Picardie), France [2.18E ; 49.54N ; 1E00]

In keeping with the common practice, we consider that a planet posited within 1 degree of the next house belongs to that house. We allow an orb of 2 degrees for the ASC and the MC.

List of your active planetary aspects

Below, provided for information purposes only, are the list of all your active aspects.

Stars indicate the strength of the aspects. The yellow colour indicates a soothing and conciliating aspect, and the red colour, a dynamic and tense aspect. The red aspects enable you to evolve, to take action, and to learn to turn your "weaknesses" into assets through your life experiences. The yellow aspects are innate strengths on which you rely in order to grow better with the former.

N.B.: to assess the condition of the rulers of the 10th and the 2nd Houses, as well as the condition of the planets in the 6th and the 10th Houses, all aspects between planets are taken into account, except for the aspects to angles, given their passive nature.

Possible jobs, motivation and assets

Your suitable jobs, your career

According to the Tradition, which dates back to Ptolemy, the 10th House, which begins with the Midheaven (MC), describes honours and dignities. The whole House gives the image of your overall destiny, with your major goals and your vocation, if it can be expressed openly. It is about potential for outstanding achievements and not about work as a means of existence.

Technically, the 10th House may include one or two signs, sometimes three. However, this report delineates only the MC, much more decisive according to the statistics, and essential in any case. The cusp of this axis points directly at the stars, since it is also the zenith of the chart. Therefore, its symbolism is clear. It speaks volumes about your ambitions, your lifestyle, your social status, and your social and professional success, as noticed by other people.

Your MC is in Scorpio

Your public destiny demands that you live your challenges to the full, Emmanuel. The MC in the 8th zodiacal sign indicates that your career is significant and striking. Intense and passionate, you wave the flag of vocation to explain your choices. You are the sort of person who exclaims 'Let those who love me follow me!'.

A radical and a hard-liner, you have carried out an in-depth analysis of all the steps of your road before you started, and you intent to persevere. Despite the hurdles on your way – quite a few – you are determined to overcome them with courage.

In other words, you are unwilling to content yourself with a dull career which does not match your instinct. When the environment gets stormy and drags you into trials of strength, you display fortitude without taking the easy way out.

With your fighting spirit and your perspicacity, you may be drawn to introspective experiences which meet your taste for inquiry. Thus all public or private investigation services may be appealing.

You are fond of the world of finance, for you have a knack for finding strategic investments, and you love secrecy.

You may undergo crises or reversals of fortune caused by your inner metamorphoses as well as by changing circumstances. In any case, you are the zodiacal sign which is best equipped to get back on its feet. Even alone, without any help, like the phoenix rising from the ashes, you manage to pick yourself up. This also applies to your field of competence. Indeed, you are able to bring extinct jobs back to life.

Professions implying investigation or research, such as private detective, psychiatrist, psychologist, strategist, scientific researcher, or computer designer, suit you too. You enjoy challenges and jobs requiring self-control. You can thrive in the police, in the military, as well as in surgery or butchery. You like atypical occupations, such as funeral director, volcanologist, gynaecologist, or sex therapist. Occultism is an additional option, for instance astrologer, clairvoyant, psychic, dowser, etc.

The keywords defining your social and professional path are as follows:

Profundity, power, mystery, transformation, crises, confrontation, perspicacity, money, strategy, investigation, provocation, sexuality.

Your professional motivation

You may not have been able to identify yourself with the concrete jobs enumerated at the end of the chapter dealing with the MC. Indeed, we carried out the exercise bearing in mind that it is impossible to give an exhaustive inventory for each of the twelve signs. Therefore we have chosen to limit it to the most typical ones, according to the traditional interpretation. However, a human being never corresponds to a "cliché".

On the one hand, there are so many medical practitioners, carpenters, or civil servants that the list could be endless, whether they are Aries, Taurus, Gemini, etc. The only nuance is that they are likely to practise in an Aries, Taurus, Gemini, and so forth, manner.

On the other hand, the world is changing, and nowadays, there is a large range of options which evolves fast. Fortunately, other indicators enable us to complete the picture. To begin with, we assess the role of the MC ruler, which also provides information on the way you work and how your vocation was born.

Your MC ruler is Pluto

Emmanuel, after having found the position of the MC, we focus on the planet ruling this sign, namely Pluto.

Your taste for power is quite strong, even though it may not be obvious, since the ruler of Scorpio weaves his web in secret. In other words, you are determined to succeed.

Moreover, you display a formidable tenacity when you must take up challenges. You are not afraid of situations of crisis, and you can even take advantage of them to prove your resoluteness and your courage.

Combative and perspicacious, you sometimes look for power struggles – unless they are imposed on you – in order to better understand the sort of person you are dealing with and to get some sort of advantage.

Regardless of your social status, you always behave toughly in your career management, including its financial aspects.

The ruler in the 8th House

Emmanuel, after having found the location of your MC and its ruler, we now look at the latter's position in House. This is how we get additional clues to your professional motivation, which may confirm the above, or sometimes, be completely different. Should this case occur, bearing in mind that a career profile is seldom uniform or bland, the possibilities of progress are widened.

In your chart, Emmanuel, the ruler of the MC is in the 8th House. It is probable that your social and professional destiny will undergo deep changes in the course of your life.

You may have several jobs, and you may experience failures because a meaningful project becomes extinct. It may be that some functions or some know-how die out. It may also be the end of a company you have created.

Sometimes, such upheavals are synonymous with evolution crises that you must overcome, and which provide strength and wisdom. In some cases, this position may positively influence your financial situation. For instance, you may be given the opportunity to raise funds, or you may receive an inheritance or considerable donations from family members or relatives in order to bring your undertakings to a successful conclusion.

To conclude the analysis of the ruler of your MC, we examine its condition, namely the number of positive and/or negative aspects it receives, among other factors, including the sign in which it is posited.

Emmanuel, your ruler, Pluto, is in good celestial condition. This means that this planet receives mainly favourable aspects, or that they are more numerous and more important than those considered to be tough aspects. Therefore, you can rely on all the various positive facets of Pluto.

Your assets and your weaknesses

Planets could be considered as lever arms enabling you to further your career. They influence this area of life according to their specific nature, and they show how you approach vocation, work, or social status.

When they are in the 10th House, their impact is direct, noticeable, and obvious. This applies all the more strongly to conjunctions with the Midheaven (MC), in which case they favour your position, or they warn about possible pitfalls. To use a metaphor, a planet on the Midheaven resembles a person who expresses easily his character, his temperament and his tastes when he deals with his career.

However, the 10th House is empty in many charts. This does not mean, in line with what we have written in the introduction, that this area of life is uneventful. In such cases, the analysis should focus on the Midheaven and on the ruler of the 10th House, which are not affected by the presence of other planets.

As far as your assets and weaknesses are concerned, it is also necessary to examine the planets aspecting the MC. Similarly to a presence in the 10th House, the aspect of a planet's specificity colours your social destiny, for good or ill.

Here again, in some natal charts, there is no relationship between the planets and the MC. This leads us to draw the same conclusion as that which we have just underlined whenever the 10th House is empty. This does not mean that there is nothing interesting to say, only that the interpretation must be limited to delineating the sign sheltering the MC and its ruler, who remains the "sole person in charge", regardless of his position in the chart.

Neptune in the 10th House

Emmanuel, in your chart, Neptune is in the 10th House. This implies that your social and professional destiny is deeply marked by idealism. You are often supported by a trend or a collective movement.

Neptune being a planet difficult to perceive, you do not control the urges which drive you towards a profession or a given situation. However, you know how to use your intuition and to let yourself be drawn where you must go, leaving fate decide for you.

Depending on your personal inclinations, an artistic job may suit you.

On the downside, you may resent that you cannot control the flow of your destiny as much as you would like. Your passivity may prove tricky. Confusion may be prevailing.

Neptune is in good celestial condition. This means that this planet receives mainly favourable aspects, or that they are more numerous and more important than those considered to be tough aspects. Therefore, you can rely on all the various positive facets of Neptune.

Saturn in square with your MC

Emmanuel, it is likely that owing to this Saturnian influence you have experienced a few hinders when you started your professional life. Nothing will come rapidly or easily. You need to make efforts which require time and investment, literally and figuratively. You painfully feel that you risk losing your job, and you may get yourself snarled up in a deadlock.

Saturn is there to prompt you to meditate on the purpose of your career or the vanity of honours. It does not mean that these drawbacks prevent from getting very nice results, only that they are achieved at the price of sacrifices or at least of a constant discipline. Aim at your goal without getting discouraged, and your career will live up to your ambitions.

Alternative professional paths

In the previous chapter, we have seen the meaning of the Midheaven and of its ruler. Indeed, in many cases, they can provide relevant information about your professional future and about the most suitable paths for you.

However, the Midheaven, the 10th House, and the 6th House, which are discussed further down, do not always reveal the entire range of social and professional possibilities of your natal chart. Certain areas of life – symbolised by the 12 astrological Houses of your chart – are highlighted by the presence, the dignity, or the activity of the planets posited in them.

Some Houses are deemed dominant. They give additional indications in terms of taste, of desire to express your talents and to spend your energy, especially in your work. They represent different potentialities, which are offered to you in addition to those mentioned in the other chapters.

Your Dominant Houses

We are describing here the meaning of your dominant Houses, except the 6th and 10th Houses, already analysed in this Report, and the 1st House, which is not related to any concrete life area and therefore can provide no information here.

The 11th House is one of your dominants

The 11th House is that of support, protection, and friendship. It also represents collective projects, hopes, humanitarian and social causes, facility for joining groups. It is a House which may have less concrete implications than some others in terms of professional occupation, but which on the other hand is more general and offers more possibilities of career.

With an 11th House among your dominants, you are certainly prone to work with a group rather than solo. Jobs related to ecology, climatology, trade unionism, humanitarian help, NGOs may perfectly suit you.

By analogy with the sign of Aquarius, other professions may suit you: film director, pilot, astronaut, radiologist, inventor, specialist in the development of high tech products, engineer, psychotherapist, audio-visual technician, electronics specialist, computer programmer, or webmaster.

The 7th House is one of your dominants

The 7th House is that of support granted by people in general: that of associations, social services, partnerships, contracts, marriages, lawsuits, competitions, but also that of the public, and of customers for artists and suppliers. A loaded 7th House naturally points to jobs related to other people, including the career.

Jobs corresponding to a dominant 7th House may be for example barrister, diplomat, intermediary, judge, salesperson, entrepreneur linked to his spouse, adviser, arbiter, councillor of the Labour Court, negotiator, conductor, group leader, wedding planner, or master of ceremonies, etc.

But also, by analogy with the sign of Libra, hairdresser, dancer, decorator, florist, perfumer, or stylist.

The daily atmosphere at work

The nature of your daily work

The analysis of the sign in which the 6th House is found reveals a lot about the nature of your daily work. Whereas the Midheaven and the 10th House represent your vocation, your career, and your visible social status, the 6th House relates to your routine activities when you perform your job. It describes the atmosphere at the workplace, the relationships with your colleagues as well as with your clients or your suppliers.

The 6th House is about duties. It tells how you deal with constraints or limitations, if they affect your ambitions, or if you fit into the mould without difficulty.

It is necessary to keep in mind that this House is slightly less important than the 10th House, which is about professional ambition. Indeed, in the tradition, astrologers do not give extra weight to planets posited there, whereas planets conjunct the MC are often included in the dominants of the whole chart.

Despite all this, the analysis of this part of the chart remains unavoidable in the career portrait, for it describes your usual daily activities. The concept of "day to day" activity is of the utmost importance here.

The 6th House in Cancer

Emmanuel, with the cuspid in Cancer, your 6th House shows that you want to recreate a cocoon comparable to your home, in order to focus on your duties. You need to work in a reassuring and traditional setting.

Since you are compassionate and gentle, you enjoy helping people, especially the young ones, the most vulnerable persons, or the elderly.

Your emotions may interfere with a reality more prosaic than in your dreams. Furthermore, you are so sensitive that you can hardly accept reproaches from your colleagues, or worse, from your superiors. In other words, whatever the level of your competences may be, you have nothing against being mothered. Left to your own devices, you may tend to make no efforts and to let yourself go.

The way you experience your professional duties

We still have to check whether you have planets in this House, similarly to what we have done for the 10th House.

Emmanuel, you have no planet in the 6th House. Therefore, no particular or additional information can be provided on what has been described above (in the paragraph about the 6th House).

The money earned through your work

"The labourer is worth his hire". Regardless of your field of activity – free-lance job, employee, labourer, civil servant, artist, etc. – remuneration is a key factor. To understand the way you approach this topic, we shall focus on the planet ruling the 2nd House, i.e. the money you earn, since its influence may speak volumes about your capacity to turn your efforts into hard cash. In some cases, it confirms or invalidates the first texts of analysis of the career.

Neptune is the ruler

Emmanuel, the ruler of the 2nd House of the chart is Neptune. With the planet in this position, you are prone to manage your earnings with some confusion. On the plus side, you follow your intuition in the field of finance, which enables you to spot good deals. Owing to a rather passive and receptive nature concerning prosperity, your situation may be artistic, or chaotic, or conversely, lucky. In any case, money is flowing, even though you do not always spend it advisedly, because you have little interest in material topics, or on the contrary because you indulge in unreasonable purchases. Beware of this weakness, as it may prove harmful.

The ruler of the 2nd House is in the 10th House

Emmanuel, the ruler of your 2nd House is in the 10th House. This position is an excellent omen, and it is most likely that your social ascent is synonymous with hard cash. Thus your earnings match your status and the consideration which the society keeps you in.

Your integration and career development capacities

We are now assessing Jupiter's position in your natal chart, which indicates how you become socially integrated.

Jupiter expresses your need or your capacity to cooperate with other people.

He also symbolises the law and the ability to adapt to rules, which is always helpful as we analyse how your vocation could fit in a society project.

Moreover, Jupiter describes the way you organise yourself, your learning potential, and your aptitude for leading a group.

This lucky planet is related to honours, to the development of your professional activity, and to the improvement of your social status.

Jupiter in the 5th House

Emmanuel, in your chart, Jupiter is in the 5th House. In this position, the planet indicates that you give your best when you feel that you are having fun or when you find your work amusing. It is by releasing your creativity, and sometimes in an artistic field, that you can fit into your workplace with greatest pleasure and success.

A report on career must examine whether there is a link between Jupiter and Saturn. The former enlarges personal horizons so as to become integrated in a group and to lead it, while the latter describes the context and the rules to be followed. Both planets form a pair, the aspects of which, if any, strongly impact the way you behave in the social and professional sphere. A possible aspect between these planets provides clues to your capacity to improve your career and to adapt to society.

Jupiter est en sextile avec Saturne

Emmanuel, in your chart, Jupiter is in harmonious aspect with Saturn. This configuration facilitates your social and professional life, because these planets are complementary and are related to integration capacities. Jupiter offers opportunities, impetus and support, while Saturn strengthens your actions and enables you to aim at an ascent in the long run.

Predispositions which may have an influence

As this report is drawing to a close, we offer additional precisions to the professional tendencies described above, and we analyse the distribution of the planets in your chart, based on elements, modes, and quadrants.

Signs are distributed among four elements: Fire, Earth, Air, and Water. Therefore, each chart displays different proportions of them and reveals specific dispositions.

The way planets are posited in the chart divided into four equal geometrical parts must be considered: it is the distribution in quadrants.

Then, in a third step, we examine the planets' position in modes: cardinal, fixed, and mutable. By analogy, they refer to a period of the season: cardinal for the beginning, fixed for the middle, and mutable for the end.

By looking at the place where the majority of planets are, we get extra pieces of information which complete the report on your career, based mainly on psychological inclinations. This predisposition is synonymous with deep preference, and not with determinism.

Your dominant elements are the Earth and the Fire

This is the diagram drawn from the distribution of the ten main planets of your chart, according to the elements:

Your Four Elements

Emmanuel, in your chart, the elements Earth (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn) and Fire (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius) prevail over the other elements. You know how to be efficient, persevering, and down-to-earth, without too many qualms. Everything you undertake must be durable and must bear fruits. With a well-asserted but nervous temperament, your relative weakness comes from a tendency to keep your stress to yourself and to let nothing appear. The good thing is your resistance and your stability, against all odds.

With a dynamic temperament, you are very intuitive and enthusiastic. You have – or not – a passion for a work. If you do not, do not insist, you will not be able to go against your nature and do something which you do not enjoy. You may lack perspective or behave too boldly in your undertakings. Conversely, your faith can move mountains.

Your dominant quadrants are the South-East and the South-West

Here is now the distribution of your quadrants, drawn from the analysis of the importance of the planets and the angles of your chart:

Your Four Quadrants

Emmanuel, in your chart, the quadrants Sud-Est (10th, 11th, and 12th House) and Sud-Ouest (7th, 8th, and 9th House) are prevailing. You are eager to turn your dreams into reality. You achieve your ambitions as soon as possible, whether it is through a developed social life, an overly busy life with friends, or a fierce need to take action in order to reap the fruits of your natural dynamism – in people's eyes, of course. It is not rare that spiritual or humanitarian matters are among the subjects you are motivated by, be it at the price of some isolation, deliberate or not.

You have a strong need to communicate, and to take certain risks with people. You progress through your exchanges, and you accept to take a new look at yourself under people's influence. This is how this energy offers you a more enlightened conscience. A form of rebellion or a desire to escape is ingrained in you almost permanently.

The mode mutable is dominant in your chart

Here is now the diagram of your modes, based on the analysis of the planets and the angles of your chart:

Your Modes

Emmanuel, in your chart, the Mutable mode is preponderant. You are tremendously adaptable, and you manage to progress constantly. Quick, flexible, and gifted for establishing contacts between things or people, you are always moving. You are likely to feel comfortable in a professional context which requires this type of qualities. However, be careful not to mistake mobility for restlessness or dissipation.

Conclusion

The purpose of this report on your professional choices is to suggest tracks to explore. Of course, it has limits, even though, compared to other disciplines, astrology enables to unveil important secrets. It contributes in particular to confirm a diagnosis made by specialists in vocational guidance.

It is impossible to guess your occupation or to foresee that which you may choose, because, for instance, no astrological report can take into account your social environment or your training level. Nevertheless, highlighting the abilities and the tastes reflected in your natal chart can steer you towards the type or types of career which may suit you best, which is already a lot.

We hope that thus you have a clear idea of the kind of activities for which your motivation is the strongest.

Today more than ever, the range of professions is very wide, and new branches emerge each day. People also change direction more often throughout life.

We advise you to reread or to ponder over this analysis, which remains valid during your whole life, since it describes your skills at the potential level.

Also bear in mind that planetary transits indicated in our predictive reports sometimes provide the trigger necessary to embark on an activity at a given period – or to follow a different route – thus turning your potential into a real professional experience.
