Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's Career and Vocation

Introduction

What is my calling? Is my job made for me? If I feel like changing direction, which one may suit me? Have I got several options? Am I right to undertake this training? Here are questions which may pop up at any stage of our life, bearing in mind that our modern society forces us to do soul searching more than in the past. In addition, the professional context has become tougher, and often compels us to take stock of our potential and our aspirations.

For this report, focusing on career and vocational guidance, we have chosen to analyse the features specific to these areas, leaving aside those which are related to the personality in general, such as for instance the Sun sign - Ascendant combination, which provides only indications on the character: indeed, one may very well have a career in the military while being a Cancer or a Pisces. Similarly, one may be a perfume creator and an Aries or a Sagittarius.

In the case we are interested in, i.e. carrying out an astrological diagnosis of your social and professional destiny, it is the 10th House taken in its entirety, starting with its cusps, the Midheaven (MC), that we assess in detail. It is necessary to examine the sign it tenants, the aspects formed by planets if any, as well as their presence in the 10th House. Technically, the position of the axes is given by the time and place of birth. Therefore, it is a particularly precise and personal indicator.

Traditionally, the whole 10th House provides information on the social status and the success concretely seen by everybody. It is a "brilliant" House, as demonstrated by many acclaimed astrologers, and the planets conjuncting the MC axis are often dominants, and those in the 10th House are always important for the entire chart. Among other works, we refer in this regard to the researches of Michel Gauquelin, who has established statistics showing this power of influence. It goes without saying that these effects are mainly felt in the social and professional area.

However, one must not deduce a contrario that people having no planets conjunct the MC or even posited in the 10th House will not experience a remarkable professional destiny. In the charts of Barack Obama, Steven Spielberg, or Rupert Murdoch, there are no planets in this House. Nevertheless, their destiny will go down in history. Why? Simply because other indicators are at play.

Beyond idealistic concepts like destiny, each of us is led to practise a job or to accomplish daily routine tasks, which are utterly important, given the time we dedicate them. This practical profile, which concerns our duties, is described by the 6th House. The astrologer finds there elements on the ambiance which may suit us, and on our relationships with colleagues or possible partners.

It is also necessary to examine income. Don't we say "to earn one's living"? When the moment comes to choose a profession, we wonder whether it will feed us. This is why we must mention it and analyse the ruler of the 2nd House as well as the planets posited in this House.

Work is above all a powerful agent for social integration. Ideally, everyone is prompted to bring one's personal qualities into the public sphere. The role of Jupiter and his possible link with Saturn is studied here as a factor of adaptation to society.

The distribution of the planets in the natal chart also provides additional fine-tuning or further confirmation of certain characteristics regarding the way the person experiences his professional development.

Let us precise once more that, in our opinion, each sign enables to practise any activity. On the other hand, the person concerned behaves in ways which are specific to each zodiacal temperament.

Since astrology is neither deterministic nor fatalistic, your chart will not stick a label or define a precise job for you. But it will offer food for thought based on your penchants, your talents, and your competences.

Thus, we hope that this report will enable you to better discern your natural affinities so as to find the best suitable path.

List of your active planetary aspects

Below, provided for information purposes only, are the list of all your active aspects.

Stars indicate the strength of the aspects. The yellow colour indicates a soothing and conciliating aspect, and the red colour, a dynamic and tense aspect. The red aspects enable you to evolve, to take action, and to learn to turn your "weaknesses" into assets through your life experiences. The yellow aspects are innate strengths on which you rely in order to grow better with the former.

N.B.: to assess the condition of the rulers of the 10th and the 2nd Houses, as well as the condition of the planets in the 6th and the 10th Houses, all aspects between planets are taken into account, except for the aspects to angles, given their passive nature.

Possible jobs, motivation and assets

Your suitable jobs, your career

According to the Tradition, which dates back to Ptolemy, the 10th House, which begins with the Midheaven (MC), describes honours and dignities. The whole House gives the image of your overall destiny, with your major goals and your vocation, if it can be expressed openly. It is about potential for outstanding achievements and not about work as a means of existence.

Technically, the 10th House may include one or two signs, sometimes three. However, this report delineates only the MC, much more decisive according to the statistics, and essential in any case. The cusp of this axis points directly at the stars, since it is also the zenith of the chart. Therefore, its symbolism is clear. It speaks volumes about your ambitions, your lifestyle, your social status, and your social and professional success, as noticed by other people.

Your MC is in Gemini

Your professional destiny is most likely to be of dual nature or even multiple, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. The MC in the 3rd zodiacal sign indicates that you are potentially tempted by many paths, sometimes quite different from each other.

It must be said in your defence that your numerous talents can be useful in the social and professional sphere. Clever, adaptable, a good communicator, it is in your interest to try before throwing yourself into anything. You ought to choose missions which enable you to start anew and to undertake something else when you get bored, should the case occur.

Commerce is a quite logical vocation for you, since this field requires several qualities that you instinctively use well. You are fond of exchanges and movement. Furthermore, you have the gift of the gab, and you are vivacious.

Your constant curiosity and freshness urge you to learn more and more every single day. You remain young at mind, and you ensure that you always keep abreast of all the latest developments.

Humour and an innate talent for repartee often give you the opportunity to shine. You impose yourself as the team leader or even as a professional comic.

However, beware of the instability which may prove to be lurking. You must not take advantage of your natural easiness and remain superficial only.

Among the professions which you may like, the media are on the top of the list: journalist, reporter, radio or TV host, community manager, blogger on social networks, writer, caricaturist, stand-up humorist, lecturer. You are excellent whenever words are essential: lawyer, narrator, teacher, interpreter.

You can be a gifted salesman, trader, travel agent, and suitable for any job requiring interpersonal skills such as specialist in public relations, flight attendant, or representative of a principal.

The keywords defining your social and professional path are as follows:

Communication, exchanges, cleverness, imitation, irony, interpersonal skills, movement, adaptation, the intellect, refinement.

Your professional motivation

You may not have been able to identify yourself with the concrete jobs enumerated at the end of the chapter dealing with the MC. Indeed, we carried out the exercise bearing in mind that it is impossible to give an exhaustive inventory for each of the twelve signs. Therefore we have chosen to limit it to the most typical ones, according to the traditional interpretation. However, a human being never corresponds to a "cliché".

On the one hand, there are so many medical practitioners, carpenters, or civil servants that the list could be endless, whether they are Aries, Taurus, Gemini, etc. The only nuance is that they are likely to practise in an Aries, Taurus, Gemini, and so forth, manner.

On the other hand, the world is changing, and nowadays, there is a large range of options which evolves fast. Fortunately, other indicators enable us to complete the picture. To begin with, we assess the role of the MC ruler, which also provides information on the way you work and how your vocation was born.

Your MC ruler is Mercury

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, after having found the position of the MC, we focus on the planet ruling this sign, namely Mercury. This is how we can learn more about your motivation.

First and foremost, you hunger for exchanges and communication, both verbally and in writing. With a quite intellectual profile, you enjoy learning as much as spreading your knowledge widely. You are clever, in terms of strategic thinking as well as in terms of manual skills.

You are shrewd, quick, and you become passionate easily. But you lose interest rapidly! Fortunately, you know how to get back on the saddle.

Rather comfortable in a group, you can adapt to any working conditions. Besides, you are fond of mobility and of the diversity of encounters.

The ruler in the 5th House

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, after having found the location of your MC and its ruler, we now look at the latter's position in House. This is how we get additional clues to your professional motivation, which may confirm the above, or sometimes, be completely different. Should this case occur, bearing in mind that a career profile is seldom uniform or bland, the possibilities of progress are widened.

In your chart, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the ruler of the MC is in the 5th House. This indicates that there is every chance that your social ambitions match what you enjoy doing.

Regardless of its nature, you deem that a career should be likened to something fun.

You may also feel comfortable in the role of teacher in contact with young people or with children. It is proved that you cannot stand constraints, because you are persuaded to give your best out of passion.

The workplace must be pleasant, with a positive atmosphere made of fantasy and entertainments.

To conclude the analysis of the ruler of your MC, we examine its condition, namely the number of positive and/or negative aspects it receives, among other factors, including the sign in which it is posited.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the condition of Mercury, ruler of your MC, is neutral. In general, it brings about neither special obstacles nor additional support for the expression of your professional motivation.

Your assets and your weaknesses

Planets could be considered as lever arms enabling you to further your career. They influence this area of life according to their specific nature, and they show how you approach vocation, work, or social status.

When they are in the 10th House, their impact is direct, noticeable, and obvious. This applies all the more strongly to conjunctions with the Midheaven (MC), in which case they favour your position, or they warn about possible pitfalls. To use a metaphor, a planet on the Midheaven resembles a person who expresses easily his character, his temperament and his tastes when he deals with his career.

However, the 10th House is empty in many charts. This does not mean, in line with what we have written in the introduction, that this area of life is uneventful. In such cases, the analysis should focus on the Midheaven and on the ruler of the 10th House, which are not affected by the presence of other planets.

As far as your assets and weaknesses are concerned, it is also necessary to examine the planets aspecting the MC. Similarly to a presence in the 10th House, the aspect of a planet's specificity colours your social destiny, for good or ill.

Here again, in some natal charts, there is no relationship between the planets and the MC. This leads us to draw the same conclusion as that which we have just underlined whenever the 10th House is empty. This does not mean that there is nothing interesting to say, only that the interpretation must be limited to delineating the sign sheltering the MC and its ruler, who remains the "sole person in charge", regardless of his position in the chart.

Mars in the 10th House

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, Mars is in the 10th House. It is by your own efforts that you can achieve some sort of success. In your case, it is important to use your huge energy to reach your goals.

You expect to get rapid results, and you spare no efforts to this aim. This position indicates many moves and actions in your career, and perhaps a fondness for jobs offering high adrenaline surges such as in sports or any physical and dynamic occupation. Danger may be part of the context of your social destiny, keeping in mind that, anyway, you prefer this to security, too boring for you.

On the downside, you may get carried away, or you may take inconsiderate risks as far as your social progression is concerned. Professional rivalries may crop up, and you may have the reputation for being a hothead. Do not overdo it.

Mars is in good celestial condition. This means that this planet receives mainly favourable aspects, or that they are more numerous and more important than those considered to be tough aspects. Therefore, you can rely on all the various positive facets of Mars.

The Sun in trine with your MC

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, the Sun is positively linked to your MC. This position has many things in common with the Sun in the 10th House, though to a lesser extent. In any case, it indicates that your need to shine in society is likely to stir up good echoes. Theoretically, your innate self-confidence enables you to establish yourself in the social and the professional sphere.

Owing either to your aura or to the support of distinguished personages, you access to managerial responsibilities more easily than other people. This aspect also provides a good balance between the expression of your deep personality and the possibility to make use of any available means to move forward socially. You are blessed with powerful protections, and you can have a rewarding job. Your will is in agreement with your destiny.

Mercury in trine with your MC

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, Mercury is positively linked to your MC. This aspect indicates that your intellectual capacities or your resourcefulness are at the service of your career. A good sense of communication and contact are valuable assets to progress and to score points in the social and professional circles. You put to good use flexibility, adaptation qualities, and the cleverness proper to Mercury. This planet linked to the MC offers you possibilities which are as numerous as your talents. Fortunately, Mercury gives a fair share of realism, and therefore, you are able to manage any sort of situation.

Neptune in sextile with your MC

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, Neptune is favourably linked to the MC. This planet heralds that your success is often brought about by social trends. You are in tune with your time, and it does not matter if you do not have a sound strategy, since all you have to do is to listen to your intuition. It is the typical position of a person feeling that he is guided in his career, although his desires seem unrealistic to people. Imagination and inspiration, even artistic talent, are the driving forces of your improvement. Here, it is out of the question that you get smothered in a rigid setting. You know how to make your way up to the top through pitfalls.

Uranus in square with your MC

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, with Uranus in this position, you are facing social and professional problems of adaptation. Often gifted and ahead of your time, you may be misunderstood, or your thirst for independence may be thwarted.

You are the living example of the talented person who does not always know how to put his qualities into practice, and who may undergo a few reversals of fortune. Social integration may prove difficult or may be jeopardised suddenly with no obvious reason. This position may indicate unexpected changes or splits in your career.

To achieve success in your projects and your career, it is in your interest to avoid risks by carefully preparing the ground and by accepting sometimes the constraints of collective work with flexibility.

Saturn in trine with your MC

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, the planet Saturn is favourably linked to the MC. It is a sign that your efforts, no matter how gruelling, usually end up being fruitful. You should adopt the saying "time will prove you right", because patience and perseverance alone can help you progress in your career. Although nothing comes to you easily, rest assured that everything you build has very solid foundations. Loyalty, seriousness, and fidelity are valuable assets for your success. Lastly, you prefer the path of conservatism and that of tradition.

The Moon in opposite with your MC

In this position, the Moon is rather comfortable, and imprints her values into your intimate sphere. Your home and your family are so important that they motivate you more than your career. You feel fine at home, and going into the outside world often requires efforts. This planetary position also offers the opportunity to work at home or to run a family company. Lastly, your close friends have a prevailing influence on your professional choices.

Pluto in opposite with your MC

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Pluto forms an opposition with the MC. Therefore, he is in the opposite House, that of family roots and of your home. It may be that your public image does not reflect your passions or your intimate torments. You let them show through only when you are with your close friends. Pluto may also indicate upheavals in your private life, or sudden moves which affect your professional destiny. Should problems occur, you can rely on your secret resources in order to start again from square one, even stronger, like the phoenix.

Alternative professional paths

In the previous chapter, we have seen the meaning of the Midheaven and of its ruler. Indeed, in many cases, they can provide relevant information about your professional future and about the most suitable paths for you.

However, the Midheaven, the 10th House, and the 6th House, which are discussed further down, do not always reveal the entire range of social and professional possibilities of your natal chart. Certain areas of life – symbolised by the 12 astrological Houses of your chart – are highlighted by the presence, the dignity, or the activity of the planets posited in them.

Some Houses are deemed dominant. They give additional indications in terms of taste, of desire to express your talents and to spend your energy, especially in your work. They represent different potentialities, which are offered to you in addition to those mentioned in the other chapters.

Your Dominant Houses

We are describing here the meaning of your dominant Houses, except the 6th and 10th Houses, already analysed in this Report, and the 1st House, which is not related to any concrete life area and therefore can provide no information here.

The 5th House is one of your dominants

The 5th House is that of creation and entertainment, leisure, parties and pleasure, games and sports, but also that of children and education, love, speculation, and sexuality as a pleasure – and not as a symbiotic relation with the partner like the 8th House.

This House brings you achievement potentialities in artistic jobs: painter, sculptor, decorator, designer, art gallery director, composer, architect, etc. – and those linked to childhood and leisure – author of children's books, show host, position in an amusement park, circuses or casinos, trader, director of films targeting young audiences, professional chess, bridge or poker player, primary education teacher.

A career in sports or as a coach may also be part of the choices matching this configuration. Jobs requiring creativity in the broad sense also represent fulfilling possibilities: software or computer games, or entertaining videos (youtuber), etc. But also, by analogy with the sign of Leo, CEO, ambassador, cineast, conductor, and all occupations in the luxury trade.

The 4th House is one of your dominants

The 4th House concerns your roots: the home, the natal house and then the place of residence, the family, the private life, childhood, real estate, agriculture, the past, the mother for the feeding aspect – or the father owing to the name transfer according to other authors – the soil, natural resources, attachment to one's village or district.

Although opposite the 10th House, that of career, the 4th House suggests many professions, the success of which is not necessarily less important. It will just be less noticeable by the world but can be equally fulfilling: real estate agent, genealogist, farmer, forest warden, employee or manager of a home-care services company. You may also be a historian or an archaeologist.

This House does not rule out various professions in the arts, politics, or literature. Professions such as teacher, geologist, restaurant owner, hotel-keeper, photographer, or writer, are also suitable.

The daily atmosphere at work

The nature of your daily work

The analysis of the sign in which the 6th House is found reveals a lot about the nature of your daily work. Whereas the Midheaven and the 10th House represent your vocation, your career, and your visible social status, the 6th House relates to your routine activities when you perform your job. It describes the atmosphere at the workplace, the relationships with your colleagues as well as with your clients or your suppliers.

The 6th House is about duties. It tells how you deal with constraints or limitations, if they affect your ambitions, or if you fit into the mould without difficulty.

It is necessary to keep in mind that this House is slightly less important than the 10th House, which is about professional ambition. Indeed, in the tradition, astrologers do not give extra weight to planets posited there, whereas planets conjunct the MC are often included in the dominants of the whole chart.

Despite all this, the analysis of this part of the chart remains unavoidable in the career portrait, for it describes your usual daily activities. The concept of "day to day" activity is of the utmost importance here.

The 6th House in Aquarius

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, you need a great deal of freedom to carry through your daily tasks. You definitely prefer to take the risk of working with an independent status, provided you can organise your work as you like. You feel comfortable in political or community circles focusing on the general interest.

You try to tie up with avant-garde people who enable you to innovate even in the most trivial details. Your work setting reflects your fondness for new technologies. Your colleagues request your cooperation, both to get some assistance, and simply because they enjoy your aura.

You are quite kind and obliging. Your original and bold initiatives are usually much appreciated by your colleagues.

The way you experience your professional duties

We still have to check whether you have planets in this House, similarly to what we have done for the 10th House.

Venus in the 6th House

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, Venus is in the 6th House. This planet symbolises beauty, powers of seduction, and love. Therefore, your professional routine should display some of these features.

It is important for you that your colleagues appreciate you. You may have a romantic relationship at work. Ancillary love affairs occur frequently.

Venus also rules the world of art. You often seek a work environment related to a discipline of this type.

More modestly, you enjoy beautifying your office, creating a refined, pleasant and warm place, since you spend long hours there. For you, daily work must be a source of pleasure and easiness.

Venus is in good celestial condition. This means that this planet receives mainly favourable aspects, or that they are more numerous and more important than those considered to be tough aspects. Therefore, you can rely on all the various positive facets of Venus.

The money earned through your work

"The labourer is worth his hire". Regardless of your field of activity – free-lance job, employee, labourer, civil servant, artist, etc. – remuneration is a key factor. To understand the way you approach this topic, we shall focus on the planet ruling the 2nd House, i.e. the money you earn, since its influence may speak volumes about your capacity to turn your efforts into hard cash. In some cases, it confirms or invalidates the first texts of analysis of the career.

Venus is the ruler

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the ruler of the 2nd House of the chart is Venus. In this position, the planet endows you with the capacity to make money easily through your occupation. Without too many efforts, sometimes even with nonchalance, you enjoy yourself, whereas other people get their due through hardship. It also happens that your natural charm or your diplomatic talents facilitate your wage bargaining... which you are likely to win hands down. Furthermore, you have no problem rewarding yourself!

The ruler of the 2nd House is in the 6th House

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the ruler of your 2nd House is in the 6th House. It is through a daily and regular activity that you can make money and increase your real estate assets. Your earnings depend on your lifestyle also – particularly on your capacity to accept a certain routine – and on your organisation.

Your integration and career development capacities

We are now assessing Jupiter's position in your natal chart, which indicates how you become socially integrated.

Jupiter expresses your need or your capacity to cooperate with other people.

He also symbolises the law and the ability to adapt to rules, which is always helpful as we analyse how your vocation could fit in a society project.

Moreover, Jupiter describes the way you organise yourself, your learning potential, and your aptitude for leading a group.

This lucky planet is related to honours, to the development of your professional activity, and to the improvement of your social status.

Jupiter in the 2nd House

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, Jupiter is in the 2nd House. Here is a position which suggests great ambitions in the financial and material areas, as well as some degree of good luck. To you, social improvement must translate into a big fat pay cheque. You spare no effort in order to get a nice social status.

A report on career must examine whether there is a close link between Jupiter and Saturn. The former enlarges personal horizons so as to become integrated in a group and to lead it, while the latter describes the context and the rules to be followed. Both planets form a pair, the aspect of which, if any, strongly impacts the way you behave in the social and professional sphere. A major aspect between these planets provides clues to your capacity to improve your career and to adapt to society.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, Jupiter forms no major aspect with Saturn. Therefore, there are no hindrances and no consolidation qualifying what has been said regarding your capacity for integration and for social expansion.

Predispositions which may have an influence

As this report is drawing to a close, we offer additional precisions to the professional tendencies described above, and we analyse the distribution of the planets in your chart, based on elements, modes, and quadrants.

Signs are distributed among four elements: Fire, Earth, Air, and Water. Therefore, each chart displays different proportions of them and reveals specific dispositions.

The way planets are posited in the chart divided into four equal geometrical parts must be considered: it is the distribution in quadrants.

Then, in a third step, we examine the planets' position in modes: cardinal, fixed, and mutable. By analogy, they refer to a period of the season: cardinal for the beginning, fixed for the middle, and mutable for the end.

By looking at the place where the majority of planets are, we get extra pieces of information which complete the report on your career, based mainly on psychological inclinations. This predisposition is synonymous with deep preference, and not with determinism.

Your dominant element is the Air

This is the diagram drawn from the distribution of the ten main planets of your chart, according to the elements:

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, the Air element, corresponding to the signs of Gemini, Libra, and Aquarius, is the most important one. Exchanges and communication are paramount for you. You approach professional challenges from the intellectual angle, and your capacity for abstraction enables you to have creative ideas, whereas people have a hard time leaving their routine to find solutions. With a sanguine temperament, your relative weakness comes from the fact that you may be unstable or superficial. Conversely, you are very adaptable and flexible, which is suitable for our modern changing world.

Your most represented quadrant is the North-West

Here is now the distribution of your quadrants, drawn from the analysis of the importance of the planets and the angles of your chart:

Your Four Quadrants

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, the North-West quadrant, represented by the 4th, the 5th, and the 6th Houses, is prevailing. You have a strong need to rely on the members of your entourage, but also on your work relationships. To be efficient, you have to feel in confidence. Since you are not too extroverted, it is essential that you seek contacts, especially those which are affective and conducive to sharing secrets. Although you may not be at the source of the professional objectives you pursue, you can achieve a successful career, provided your friends and relatives are on the same wavelength as you.

The mode mutable is dominant in your chart

Here is now the diagram of your modes, based on the analysis of the planets and the angles of your chart:

Your Modes

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, in your chart, the Mutable mode is preponderant. You are tremendously adaptable, and you manage to progress constantly. Quick, flexible, and gifted for establishing contacts between things or people, you are always moving. You are likely to feel comfortable in a professional context which requires this type of qualities. However, be careful not to mistake mobility for restlessness or dissipation.

Conclusion

The purpose of this report on your professional choices is to suggest tracks to explore. Of course, it has limits, even though, compared to other disciplines, astrology enables to unveil important secrets. It contributes in particular to confirm a diagnosis made by specialists in vocational guidance.

It is impossible to guess your occupation or to foresee that which you may choose, because, for instance, no astrological report can take into account your social environment or your training level. Nevertheless, highlighting the abilities and the tastes reflected in your natal chart can steer you towards the type or types of career which may suit you best, which is already a lot.

We hope that thus you have a clear idea of the kind of activities for which your motivation is the strongest.

Today more than ever, the range of professions is very wide, and new branches emerge each day. People also change direction more often throughout life.

We advise you to reread or to ponder over this analysis, which remains valid during your whole life, since it describes your skills at the potential level.
